

Dear Kayla,

30 May 25

If you'd be ever so kind as to give me till July, I will do all that's possible to receive material income. I can't promise these will be regular money flows, but they will at least be sizable lumps which give us meaningful wiggle-room. Maybe even enough for some fun artist adventures.

I've put together a checklist of things I'll do, so that you can hold me accountable to my actions. They have expected time frames by which I will have answers. I've really been trying, including a failed grant application last month to a trusted source.

Love, John
